"Well," said Ruth slowly, "I would put these two women way back of my mind, and work hard for the day to come when they'd be mighty glad to resume their friendship with me. I'm pretty sure that that day will come, and so are you. All you've got to do now is to make good, do you understand? You've got your future pretty well marked out. Think of that. You expect to get the management of this Vienna branch, and you certainly deserve it. After that, you may get the management of Austria, and perhaps, some time the management of all of Europe, and then of the whole continent, and then perhaps the whole thing. You're young, you know the business, and you're going to know it a lot better before you get through. Don't let a little thing like this get in your way."

Ruggles' face glowed. "You're right, Miss Downing," said he. "After all, the company's the main thing."

"Don't let any silly woman put you off," said Ruth. "Remember that you've got to get on. You owe it to yourself and to the company. You're not like so many men in your position who merely waste their time and their salary and have their minds always on some girl or foolishness of that sort. Tell me something—the fastest Ruggles suddenly with her deep violet eyes—"and tell me the truth. In your room—have you got pictures of Daria? Look up all over the place!"

Ruggles shook his head with a smile.

"No," he answered; "I haven't a single picture of her."

"Nor of any other girl?" She paused and watched the blush mounting under Ruggles' clear skin.

"I've got some pictures of you," said he.

"Of me?" Ruth exclaimed.

"Yes. They're just prints I cut out of illustrated papers. I've had three of them ever since you made your debut a couple of years ago. You don't mind, do you?" He regarded her anxiously.

"I—don't know," said Ruth slowly, and gave him a very intent look. "Have you any pictures of other women? Stage people—or celebrities?"

Ruggles' shocked look amounted almost to indignation.

"Of course not!" he answered. "Do you think I put things like that on my wall beside your pictures? What do you take me for?" His face flushed.

"Beg your pardon," said Ruth softly. "But why did you want my pictures in your room?"

"Well," said Ruggles, "It was like this. I've always been mighty interested in your family, naturally, seeing as I never worked for anybody else. When Dick was in college, I always kept track of what he did in athletics, and all, and kept a scrapbook of clippings that I cut out of the papers telling all about the games he played and the races he won in, and all that. I've got some pretty pictures of him putting the shot, and all that. I've got some of your father, and your mother, and your country place. You see, it was sort of like having a family of my own to keep track of."

"It came this morning, Mr. Ruggles," said she, "but Josi was careless and slipped it under the door of our new boarder. He does not get up until noon, so the error was not discovered."

Ruggles thanked her and took the letter, and as he glanced at the heading of the envelope, his heart, already sorely taxed, gave a sudden bound. Here, at last, was the letter which he had been so anxious to get. This expected official order to go to Vienna and take command of the new store. What a play, he thought, that Josi had been so careless! With this letter in his pocket, how much better equipped he would have been to talk to Miss Chabaud and her sister. But, after all, it was not the fault of the company. The company had done its part and backed up his claims as he had known and felt that the company would. "Put not your faith in princes and other nobility," Ruggles thought, "but put it in the Walkways Shoe Company, and you can't go wrong."

He hurried to his room and, standing with back to the last rays of the autumn sunset, tore open the envelope and read as follows:

Mr. Richard P. Ruggles, Esq.,
Walkways Shoe Company, Paris.

Dear Sir,—We regret to inform you that we—and ourselves unable to offer you the management of the Vienna branch of the Walkways Shoe Company.

For such an appointment, we find it preferable to select a man who is a person thoroughly conversant with the business methods, and language of the country in which the branch is situated. Inasmuch as Mr. Max Lorenz, recently employed by the Paris store, appears to possess the necessary requirements, besides having been in the Vienna branch for several years, and being thoroughly conversant with the trade, we have found it preferable to appoint him as manager of the new Vienna branch.

We assure you that your application will remain in the files of the company, and no doubt, in the event of a change of circumstances, will be established at a later date, we will be able to offer you the desired opportunity.

Yours very truly,

CHAPTER VIII.

There are times in the lives of most of us when the whole universe appears to be against us. In such practical joke, of which we are the helpless, underserving victims.

So it seemed now to Ruggles. He had worked honestly and faithfully for the Walkways Shoe Company, giving it his best and earnest efforts and trying to prepare himself to serve the interests in a broader capacity. What had been the result? Not only had the company failed to give him the reward which he felt to be his due, but, what was far worse, it seemed to Ruggles that it had been guilty of broken faith. It had given him its assurance that his services were soon to be recognized according to their merits, then preferred above his head man, who had been in the company for less than four months, and who Ruggles, in spite of his natural modesty, was convinced had not the half of his own ability and knowledge of the business. What had Lorenz ever done for the Walkways Shoe Company? What had his father ever done before him? Lorenz was an indifferent salesman, rather slow and sometimes too patient with undecided or difficult customers. He was irritable or taciturn with his fellow employees, and as he had prepared himself to serve the interests of the company, he was now, in Ruggles' eyes, treacherous and dishonest.

CURED HIS RHEUMATISM!

"I am eighty-three years old and I doctored for rheumatism ever since I came out of the army, over 10 years ago. Like many others I spent money freely for so-called 'cures' and I was about this 'old' and 'cured' almost ten years. I could not sleep nights or walk without pain; my hands were so stiff and ailed I could not hold a pen. But now I am again in active business and can walk with ease or drive my car with ease. My friends are surprised at the change."

You might just as well attempt to put a fish with oil as try to get rid of your rheumatism, neuritis and the complaints by taking years' expense to drive this Acid out of your blood and body. It took Mr. Ashmun five years to find out the truth. He learned how to get rid of the true cause of his rheumatism, other disorders and derived his strength from "The Inner Mysterium," now being distributed free by an authority who developed over twenty years to the scientific study of this trouble, if any reader of this paper wishes "The Inner Mysterium of Rheumatism" given by doctors and scientists for centuries past. Write and send a post card or letter to H. P. Clearwater, 414 S. Street, Milwaukee, Wis. Send now, lest you forget! It is not a surface cure, but it cures the cause and gives you new life and opportunity to see a different world. All who will receive it are so relieved mind and body that they will never return with any more rheumatism.

Swiss landlady handed him a letter with apologies and an envelope.

It came this morning, Mr. Ruggles," said she, "but Josi was careless and slipped it under the door of our new boarder. He does not get up until noon, so the error was not discovered."

Ruggles thanked her and took the letter, and as he glanced at the heading of the envelope, his heart, already sorely taxed, gave a sudden bound. ## Minimum Prices For 1919 Wheat

Wheat Crop Will Be Sold Through the Canadian Wheat
Board

This season's wheat crop of Canada will be sold through a board, the Canadian Wheat Board. This Board, which has been appointed by the Dominion Government, has been instructed to buy all the wheat in the terminal markets and resell it both in Canada and abroad. An advance is to be made to the farmer of the following minimum prices for his wheat on delivery. These prices are based on prices of grain in store in Port William or Port Arthur, and the difference between these and any higher prices that may subsequently be obtained will be remitted to the farmer when the wheat is sold, as explained below.

Sellers of grain will receive a "participation certificate" showing number of bushels of wheat sold. This certificate will be registered with the Wheat Board by the grain firm issuing it, and after registration they will deliver it to the original shipper of the grain. This certificate will then entitle the holder to whatever surplus the Wheat Board distributes in accordance with the number of bushels sold.

London, England.—Quarterly shipping returns from Lloyd's show that at the end of June 2,324,055 tons was the total for the United Kingdom, which represents an increase of 20,000 tons. The largest increase was in the Clyde, where there are now 893,467 tons under construction. The total building abroad—5,593,717 tons—is slightly lower than the total building of the end of March, and this is due to a decrease in the wood tonnage building in the United States. The total of 8,017,762 tons—is about 21,000 tons higher than the March figures.

Explains Why Germany Lost
Berlin.—In his forthcoming book dealing with events from 1914 to 1916, General Von Falkenhayn, former chief of staff of the German army, complains of the German army's failure to adopt his proposals in 1915 for the inauguration of peace negotiations with Russia. He also blames the government for its delay in beginning submarine warfare, whereby the German people were deprived of a "sure and effective weapon."

To Represent Canada
Ottawa.—The appointment is gazetted of Sir Edward Kemp, K.C.M.G., and Sir George Perley, K.C.M.G., as plenipotentiaries of the Canadian government with power to conclude and sign treaties, covenants or agreements, in respect to the peace conference. The appointments are effective as from January 1, 1919.

Canada Must Act Soon
To Receive Gift From France and Belgium

London.—Some time ago the Belgian Government presented Canada with a splendid site at Meun Gate, Ypres, for the erection of a Canadian Hall of Records as a memorial of Canadian fighting in the Ypres salient. The French government also offered several acres of Vimy Ridge for the same purpose.

It is learned that the mayor of Vimy has written intimating that while he has been instructed to allocate a site for this purpose, he has not yet been authorized by the Canadian Government to accept of the gift of the Belgian Government, and is also unaware whether the French offer will be accepted.

Unless something is done without delay these sites may pass under the control of the British imperial authorities.

Holding Germany Responsible
Paris.—The peace conference has agreed to send a note to Germany saying the peace conference desires the representations that General von Goltz and the German troops in the Baltic states are not under German control, and holding Germany responsible for the withdrawal of those forces.

Marshal Foch attended the council as adviser on the Baltic situation.

The Why? of Another Victory Loan

WHEN, on the morning of November 11th, 1918, the guns were hushed and glad tidings flashed across the world, there followed with the Nation's Prayer of Thanksgiving, one yearning query, which found echo in the faster beating hearts of wives, mothers, fathers, brothers, sisters and sweethearts. That query was, "How soon will our boy be home?" And, from France and Flanders, from Italy and Egypt, from Palestine and from far-off Siberia, there came an answering echo, "How soon, how soon, may we go home?"

CANADA caught the spirit of these longings, and at once resolved to satisfy them. It was an appalling task. Shipping was tragically scarce. The composition of the Army of Occupation had not then been settled. And other parts of the Empire as well as Canada were looking for the speedy return of their men.

THE problem was this. The half-million men that Canada had overseas had taken more than four years to transport to the field of battle. To bring them home in a few months was a gigantic undertaking—one to tax all Canada's ingenuity and resources. Canada solved the problem, but it meant crowding into a few short months, an expense for demobilization which it was impossible to foresee.

THEN, too, besides the sentimental aspect of the necessity for bringing the men home quickly the economic side could not be overlooked. That was, to transform efficiently and speedily the nation's army of fighters into a national army of workers.

Need Divides Itself in Two Parts

Obligations to Soldiers

The answer to the question "Why does Canada need another Victory Loan?" divides itself into two parts: (a) To finish paying the expenses of demobilization, and the obligations we still owe to our soldiers. (b) To provide national working capital.

The obligations to soldiers include: That already incurred cost of bringing home troops from overseas. The payment of all soldiers still undemobilized. This includes more than 20,000 sick and wounded who are still in hospital, and who of course remain on the Army payroll till discharged. The upkeep of hospitals, and their medical and nursing staffs, until the need for them is ended. These three items alone will use up at least $200,000,000 of the Victory Loan 1919.

Gratuities

There is also the gratuity which has been authorized, and has been and is being paid to assist soldiers to tide over the period between discharge and their re-adjustment to civil life. For this purpose alone, $61,000,000 must be provided out of the Victory Loan 1919, in addition to the $59,000,000 already paid out of the proceeds of the Victory Loan 1918.

Land Settlement

Furthermore, soldiers who desire to become farmers may, under the Soldiers' Land Settlement Act, be loaned money by Canada with which to purchase land, stock and implements. The money so advanced will be paid back; meantime each loan is secured by a first mortgage. Up to August 15th, 29,495 soldiers had applied for land under the terms of this Act; and 22,281 applications had been investigated, and the qualifications of the applicant approved. For this purpose Canada this year requires $24,000,000.

Vocational Training

For this work, with the Vocational Training and Soldiers' Service Departments, embrace the major activities of the Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment, an appropriation of $57,000,000 is necessary.

Those who give thought to our outstanding obligations to soldiers, and to our need for national working capital, cannot fail to be impressed with the absolute necessity for the

These national expenditures are war expenses. They will be accepted readily by every citizen who gives thought to the task which Canada is faced following the Armistice, and to the success with which she has met it.

National Working Capital

Canada needs national working capital, so that she may be able to sell on credit to Great Britain and our Allies the products of our farms, forests, fisheries, mines and factories. You may ask "Why sell to them if they can't pay cash?" The answer is, "Their orders are absolutely essential to the continuance of our agricultural and industrial prosperity."

The magnitude of these orders and the amount of employment thus created, will depend upon the success of the Victory Loan 1919.

The "Why" of Credit Loans

Farmers and manufacturers (and that includes the workers on these orders) must be paid cash for their products. Therefore, Canada must borrow money from her citizens to give credit, temporarily, to Great Britain and our Allies. Actually, no money will pass out of Canada. If Canada does not give credit, other countries will; and they will get the trade, and have the employment that should be ours, to distribute amongst their workers. And remember, we absolutely need these orders to maintain employment. If we don't finance them business will feel the depression, employment will not be as plentiful, and conditions everywhere will be adversely affected.

For Transportation

Money must also be available to carry on the nation's shipbuilding programme, and other transportation development work.

For loans to Provincial Housing Commission who are building moderate priced houses. These, then, are some of the things for which Canada needs national working capital. She is in the position of a great trading company, and her citizens who buy Victory Bonds are the shareholders.

MALEB

Before it was possible to rescue the young officer, he had died from the loss of blood.

Pte. Wright was recommended for the Military Medal, but headquarters decided that the heroic deed merited the higher award of the Distinguished Conduct Medal. As it happened, a French officer was in the British trenches at that time and was a witness of the occurrence and he made the recommendation which resulted in the bestowal of the Croix De Guerre first class, on the young hero.

Wounded in thirteen places, Pte. Wright was sent to England but, before reaching there he became dumb as a result of the shock to his nervous system and he regained his speech through an auto accident after three months of enforced silence.

So serious were his wounds he was not allowed to return to France but was transferred to the Forestry Corps, England, with which he served.

until after the signing of the Armistice. He returned to his home in Toronto just before Christmas of last year.

Pte. Wright is now residing with his uncle, Mr. James N. Gibson of Maleb but is thinking of buying land in this district himself and becoming a permanent resident.

October last, The Cincinnati Reds won the initial game of the world's series of 1919 by the overwhelming score of 10 to 1. The heavy hitting of the National League, combined with the facts that Eddie Cicotte, the White Sox star twirler, was forced to retire, stood out as the features of the opening contest. The hitting of Walter Heath was the outstanding brilliant performance of the Reds, the southpaw getting three hits out of five batters at bat, including two triples. Heath's pitching was also of the highest class.

ALBERTA RETURNED SOLDIERS' COMMISSION

The Editor of the Review has been asked by the above Commission to publish the following: (Which is done freely and with pleasure) Ed.

One of the interesting features in the work of the Alberta Returned Soldiers Commission has been the disposal of deceased Soldiers effects.

The Alberta Battalion had in their ranks a majority of men from the British Isles. A great number of these men were unmarried, without Next of Kin in Canada. During the early stages of the war these men were the first to enlist; not having relatives in Canada they packed their civilian possessions in trunks and boxes leaving them with friends and acquaintances until their return, but many will never return having given their lives for the Mother Country. These trunks and boxes, in the vast majority of cases, are still in Alberta and owing to the deceased soldier not having left the address of his Next of Kin with the person keeping the effects, the records of the A. R. S. C. show some interesting cases:

The case of Pte. S. is one in point; a trunk was left with a family in Calgary, it later being handed to the A. R. S. C. for disposal, no record of the Regimental Number of the deceased soldier was to be found, but on examining the trunk and its contents a number of photographs were discovered, by a mere coincidence one was of a young lady with her name on the back of the snapshot. The photo was taken on the platform of a railway in Scotland, in the background of the photograph was a lamp post bearing the name of the Station. A letter was immediately sent, to the young lady, addressed to the Town shop, in the snapshot a reply was received, giving full particulars of Pte. S., enabled the office to dispatch the trunk, through the Military Authorities to the Next of Kin in Scotland.

Another case of interest was that of Pte. D.

No record number was to be found but the trunk contained a number of letters from Blackpool, England; these different letters were selected, each being signed by a young lady's christened name only but fortunately the letters were headed by an address. Letters were sent to them bearing the christened name of the young lady; in all three cases replies were received giving particulars of Pte. D. sufficient to send the trunk to his mother overseas.

A similar case to that of Pte. D., was that of Pte. L.

Upon writing to an address in England giving the Christian name only a reply was received from the deceased soldier's sister.

Another case was that of Cpl. S., a book giving the clue. The book was apparently presented by a friend and the fly leaf contained the girl's name and address; through this address the effects were sent to his home in the Old Country.

The Estate Branch of the A. R. S. C. has since its inception probated approximately 1800 Wills for the Estates of deceased Soldiers.

Persons having or knowing of effects and papers of deceased Soldiers are requested to communicate with the Asst. Secretary of the A. R. S. C. 214 Boveridge Bldg. Calgary, Alta.

We have been having some remarkable "rainstorms" of late, the last continued for nearly ten minutes without letting up, which is quite a phenomena for this wilderness.

Chas. Thompson was down to the Marsden Branch helping Slim brand his calf last week.

The Mayberry Thresher Co. have pulled in after four days hard labour.

A. F. Dulmage's sale last Saturday was well attended and the prices obtained were very good considering the poor crops all around.

Would Have Senate Take Definite Stand

Pueblo, Colo.—Reducing his fight for the peace treaty to a direct issue of acceptance or rejection, President Wilson has invited the Senate to take a definite and unmistakable stand one way or the other.

Referring to objections that the United States might be at a disadvantage in the league, Mr. Wilson said whoever said that "definitely was falsifying or had not read the covenant." He added that there was no validity in the argument that the British Empire could outvote the other nations, because the empire's six votes are in the assembly, which is only the "talking body" of the league. The real power of action, he said, was in the council, where decisions must be unanimous.

Manitoba Great War Veterans Ask More Drastic Observation of Regulations

Winnipeg.—That stringent measures be taken to prevent the admission of Hutterites to Manitoba, that all Hutterites already here be asked to take out citizenship papers on penalty of deportation, that all, irrespective of anything else, be asked to sign a statement to the effect that they are willing to abide by the laws of the country, including that regarding military service, and that those who refuse be deported at once, is the effect of a resolution passed by the provincial command of the Great War Veterans' Association.

Land Settlement For War Veterans

Ottawa.—At the opening of the session of the special committee of the House on soldiers' civil re-establishment, the telegram from the United Veterans' League, formerly the Gaitery League, demanding recognition before the commission, came up.

The Imperial veterans of Vancouver had also asked that the committee be heard; and it was proposed to hear their delegates this week.

Brig. Gen. McLean suggested that the secretary of the Imperial veterans at Winnipeg be asked that a delegate be appointed and notify the Vancouver branch what was his home, and asking if that was satisfactory. This was finally put in the form of a motion and carried.

Commandant J. Evans, of the Army and Navy Veterans, Kingston, requested that his organization be given a hearing by the committee. It was decided to get in touch with W. J. Tupper, Dominion president of the Army and Navy Veterans, asking that he take any action necessary toward appointing a delegate representing the whole organization.

S. Maher, secretary of the Soldiers' Settlement Board, was recalled and questioned regarding costs of administration and the advances made to soldiers. By the end of this year it was expected that the cost of the department would be $450,000 for loans and administration. The estimate of $150,000,000 for fifty thousand soldiers who were expected to

Increase in Number of Men Brought About Question of Maintenance

Trieste.—Additional reinforcements to Gabriele D'Annunzio's forces have raised the military strength of his contingent to more than 12,000 men, according to the estimates of allied officers returning from Fiume.

The great increase in the number of D'Annunzio's men has brought about the serious question of their maintenance, in view of the blockade of the port, and D'Annunzio has been compelled to request other persons who have offered him their services to stay at home and hold themselves in readiness for a call.

Paris.—An Italian detachment with several armored motor cars has crossed the line of demarcation at Foggia, Delmona, and penetrated the town after having overcome the resistance of a dozen Jugo-Slavs, according to the estimates of allied officers.

"That the civil service commission should be asked to inquire into the representation to returned soldiers on said commission."

"That a general amnesty should be granted to soldiers undergoing terms of imprisonment for military offences committed during the war."

They were sold at 200 per cent. profit, that sugar was retailed at thirteen cents a pound in many cases and could not be secured at all prices other goods were purchased in others, and that bread was sold at excessive prices.

Dr. Williams, the French felt that the League of Nations was an insufficient guarantee for some years to come that the protective policy of alliance between France, Great Britain and the United States was drawn up.

Senate Labor Probe

Labour Commission's Investigation of Nation-Wide Steel Strike

Washington.—Arrangements have been completed for the beginning of the senate labor commission's investigation of the nation-wide steel strike. Chairman Kenyon announced receipt of assurances from John Fitzpatrick, chairman of the strikers' organization committee, that he would be on hand to present labor's side of the controversy.

Senator Thomas, Democrat, Colorado, in an address on the floor of the senate, declared it had been called on the thinnest excuse, and that the principal object was "to disturb and belittle industrial conditions," and that the participation of hundreds of thousands of men in it was the worst of any country becomes almost civil war.

Primary objects of the senate investigation, Senator Kenyon said, would be the setting forth before the public the real causes and objects of the strike.

Fitzpatrick, as well as Chairman Gary of the United States Steel Corporation, who is said to appear Wednesday, according to Senator Kenyon's plan of procedure, first will be asked for a detailed statement and then be subject to cross-examination by all members of the committee.

Kenyon has also asked for an enquiry and return a report to the senate within a fortnight.

Senator Kenyon holds the hope that the investigation, in its effect on the public, may help the progress of the strike.

The committee is to learn from both sides of the dispute, exactly how many men and plants are affected, how many steel employees are union men, and how many non-union, what percentage remain "loyal," what localities and industries are involved, and how many conditions immediately led to the strike.

Good Crops In Dry Districts

Late Flax Proving Most Profitable Crop In Swift Current

Swift Current, Sask.—No frost yet appeared in this district, the year having established a record in this respect. As a consequence many farmers have started cutting fields of flax that promise excellent yields in many instances.

Porterville, Alberta, where the district as a whole, there is a large amount of late flax, and it now seems that the three districts will be suitably harvested.

One farmer in the vicinity who counted on no crop is realizing over $4,000 from his flax besides having a goodly amount of feed from late crops.

Fire In New Parliament Buildings

Ottawa.—The new parliament buildings were the scene of a fire, and but for the fireproof construction a conflagration such as that of February 1916 might have ensued.

The blaze occurred in an inside room in the basement among some boxes, and the firemen had to drag them through corridors, etc., in order to reach the fire. The damage to property was about $2,000, but whether the dense smoke which resulted will injure any of the new painting or plaster is problematical.

No Danger From Germany

Pea For Solidarity Between The Allies

Salvaging Old Bullion

Difficulty of Getting Up Bars of Specie Are Immense

London.—A good many experienced goldsmiths have been in the circulation regarding the success of the bullion salvaging operation in connection with the steamships. Laurence, which lies a few miles off the entrance to Lough Swilly. The facts are that of the $5,000,000 worth of specie which the liner was carrying in America when it was sunk in January, 1917, probably less than $2,500,000 has been recovered. Of this about $1,250,000 was salvaged a year ago, when operations had to be suspended owing to German submarine activities.

It is not so much the actual working up of the bars of gold that is difficult, as the dealing with the hundreds of metal plates of the same weight about $5,000, and the recovery of two bars is reckoned a fair day's work.

When a sufficient consignment has been got together, a steamer sent in charge of a naval paymaster under a strong escort to London, and various points on the journey the officer is met by government officials, to whom he reports "all safe."

For A New Palestine

Proposal For a Union of Palestine, Syria and Mesopotamia

London.—Habib Lottallah, chief European representative of the Syrian union committee, informed the Associated Press that Prince Feisal, son of the King of the Hedjaz, has tentatively accepted a proposal drawn up by the committee for a union of Palestine, Syria and Mesopotamia.

Prince Feisal's acceptance, he said, was given on condition that the British Government approved the plan. The proposal already has been laid before the Government, he added.

The scheme provides for the appointment of the united nations of the committee to be selected by Great Britain, France and Syria the executive bodies, a chamber and a council, and a high court of appeal on a democratic basis, and the drafting of a constitution.

American Marines Take Action

stronger to compel the Italians to evacuate Tarras, Dalmatia, according to a dispatch received here from Spato. The dispatch adds that the Italian troops have been ordered to fire on the town and that Jugo-Slav troops took over the town from the United States soldiers.

To Buy Cereals

Buenos Ayres.—Coinciding with the request made on behalf of Germany for a $100,000,000 loan with which to buy foodstuffs and materials from Argentina, the finance committee of the Chamber of Deputies made public a majority report of the committee which would authorize the government to open a $200,000,000 credit for Italy, France and Great Britain to raise on the same basis.

The cabinet met on Tuesday and would be spent in the purchase of Argentine cereals. The loan would run for two years and bear interest at 5 1/2 per cent.

May Avert Strike On British Railways

London.—By a curious coincidence on the day Sir Eric Geddes has formally taken up his new duties as Minister of Transport, the Government was confronted by an ultimatum threatening stoppage of the whole railroad system of the country, unless a basis for the standardization of the men's wages, which has been in dispute since the month of March, is settled to the men's satisfaction. When it is remembered how fierce was the opposition to Transport Bill, which created the new ministry, met in its passage through parliament, the coincidence is perhaps not without significance.

The suddenness of the action of the United Union of Railwaymen, says that the more inexplicable as, by an agreement, the war wages of the workers would operate until the end of the year, allowing still three months for further negotiations.

It is recalled that the Glasgow congress avoided a straight vote on the action, and the miners' federation is at present engaged in a great campaign to secure nationalization of the mines, which the Government has refused to consider.

He is asked by the public whether there is some political motive behind the railwaymen's ultimatum.

The cabinet met on Tuesday, three hours considering the crisis, after which it was authorized to announce that the Government had indicated its willingness to continue the negotiations on the ground that "some misunderstanding" existed.

The Ladies of the Catholic Altar Society met in the basement of the Church Thursday p.m. to tie quilts. They also took that occasion to serve tea in honor of Mrs. Dulmage and presented her with a beautiful silver plated pie dish and a pie server. They expressed their keen regret at her departure, but wished her prosperity and happiness in her new home.
